THE WOODS FULL OF 'EM.

The New York Herald Names Available Democrat Candidates.

"A cursory survey of the field shows that the Democrats are rich in Presidential timber. If the party West is to have the nomination, for instance, there is Gray, of Indiana; or Campbell, of Ohio; or Vilas, of Wisconsin; or Morrison of Illinois. If the border Union States are looked to, there is Gorman, of Maryland; or Wilson, of West Virginia; or Carlisle, of Kentucky; or if, foreseeing the great political change which will make New England Democratic, that section were to be wisely gratified with a nominee, there is the gallant and brilliant Russell, of Massachusetts; or the astute Phelps of Vermont; or the sage father of revenue reform, Wells, of Connecticut; or if an Eastern Democratic State were to have it, there is McPherson of New Jersey. There is sound statesmanship and 'good politics' in almost every one of these names. All are in harmony with the democratic policies; there is no man in the list we have named for whom any citizen could not vote with the assurance that if the battle were won the nominee would make an honorable, honest and patriotic administration. Nor does this random list conclude the matter. There are a dozen other Democrats conspicuous and popular enough to make good candidates. New York has Whitney, and we have reserved to the last one whose owner has the esteem, confidence and admiration alike of North and South, East and West, Henry Watterson, of Kentucky. In our belief, Mr. Watterson would be the most universally popular candidate who could be named by the Democrats. To nominate him would conciliate the opposition of thousands of Republican votes. He would secure, beyond a doubt, the whole Cleveland vote and the whole independent vote. His name would disarm all violent opposition. His election would please, even delight, a multitude of prominent Republicans. Why not Watterson?"

The Worlds Fair Buildings.

The actual erection of the Exposition buildings began in June, 1891. Now all of them are being rapidly pushed toward completion. Already several are under roof. About 4,000 workmen are employed. Work proceeds day and night.

Women's building.—This is the farthest advanced of all. It is roofed and almost completely exteriorly. Covered and adorned with "staff," it appears like a marble palace. The furnishing of the interior is proceeding.

Mines building.—The framework is up, and the finishing touches are being put on the iron and glass roof. The "staff" is being applied.

Electricity.—The framework is completed up to the gallery floor, and nearly all of the great steel trusses for the roof in place.

Horticulture.—The pavilions are up to the roof line. The west curtains is roofed and the windows are being placed. The iron work of the dome is being put in position.

Transportation.—Framework practically completed, as also roof sheathing over galleries. Clear-story trusses are being raised.

Administration.—Structural work of the four pavilions completed and exterior covering being applied. Iron work in place up to base of dome, 170 feet from ground.

Machinery Hall.—Floor and 6,000 supporting piers completed; superstructure going up, and foundation for annex being laid.

Agriculture.—Interior columns and gallery girders and joints in position, and the great iron columns supporting the roof being placed. Of the 7,000,000 feet of lumber which the building will contain, more than half is already utilized.

Manufactures and Liberal Arts.—The thirty and one-half acres of flooring are laid, and the superstructure is begun. The huge steel trusses for the roof, which together will contain more metal, by 50 per cent. than the Brooklyn bridge, will soon be raised.

Art Galleries.—Basement and floor are completed, and the brick walls have reached an average height of ten feet above the second floor. More than 5,000,000 brick are already laid.

Fisheries.—The gallery trusses of the main building are placed, and the iron framework of both pavilions is completed.

Forestry.—This is about three-fourths finished, and will be occupied by the model makers until spring, when the outside rustic work will be put on, and the temporary roof will be replaced by a thatched one.

Dairy.—All the columns are up to the roof line, and the gallery floor is being laid.

Work on the Illinois State building and on the U. S. Government building is being pushed rapidly. The nation's Battleship is completed to the deck level.

Insurance is placed and increased on the buildings as their construction proceeds. The amount now carried is above $1,000,000. During the Exposition, it is estimated, not less than $150,000,000 or $200,000,000 of insurance will be carried on the buildings and exhibits.

All possible precautions are taken against fire. The Exposition grounds are already provided with a full equipment of fire engines and apparatus.

In the construction of the buildings about 60,000,000 feet of lumber and 18,000 tons of steel and iron will be used. In their adornment will be utilized nearly 84,000 pieces of ornamental "staff" work, of which about one-third are already completed.

In the Capital Dome.

Last afternoon Mr. W. R. Cruce, representing the New York National Lead company, went up to inspect the great granite capitol, and while roaming through its immense corridors, he concluded to climb to the top of the towering dome. At the top he found painters at work. He gazed at the magnificent landscape to be seen from the dome, and after satisfying himself he started down, but his progress was stayed by a locked door. The painters not observing him, had knocked off work at 5 o'clock, and locking the door had left. Mr. Cruce was in a fix, with a fair prospect of remaining in the dome all night. From the top of the dome attempted to attract attention, but failing, he returned to the door, and searching around found a piece of iron with which he broke the lock and escaped. To a STATESMAN reporter he stated he had about made up his mind to roost in the dome all night when his eye caught the bar of iron which aided him in escaping.—Austin, (Tex.) Star.

FREE SILVER COINAGE.

The Question Precipitated By Mr. Pierce, of Tennessee.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Representative Pierce, of Tennessee, an ardent free-coinage man, fired the first gun in committee in favor of free and unlimited coinage of silver immediately after the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures effected an organization this morning. This was the first meeting of the committee, and it was expected to be simply of a preliminary nature, but Mr. Pierce forced the subject to the front at once by a resolution to report a free silver bill without delay.

The discussion that arose on the resolution showed that the committee is a free coinage committee, though both free silver and anti-free silver men oppose the adoption of the resolution, on the grounds that it was to precipitate. Mr. Pierce finally withdrew his resolution for the present, and by common consent the subject went over until the meeting of the committee next Wednesday.

COL. BRECKINRIDGE

Will Deliver the World's Fair Dedictory Oration Next October.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—The World's Fair Dedictory Committee has decided to make a grand international ball on the night of October 13 next one of the features of the dedicatory exercises. The committee has selected Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, to deliver the dedicatory oration.

HALF A MILLION.

Emporia, Kas., Jan. 14.—The will of the late Senator Plumb was entered for probate and shows some queer features. The will does not show definitely the amount of the estate, but while it has been placed as high as $2,000,000 by some and $100,000 by others, it will probably amount to $500,000. The Senator had property in New York, Florida, Alabama, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Montana. Mrs. Plumb and her son, both invalids, were made sole executors of the will, and while Mrs. Plumb is in very bad health she will to all the business of the estate and has been looking after it's interests fully.

HUNG AT PADUCAH.

Jesse Brown Meets His Fate Without a Whimper.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 15.—In the jail yard at 7:27 o'clock this morning, Jesse Brown, the murderer of John Larry, paid the penalty of his atrocious crime. The hanging was private, the doctors, city officials, newspaper reporters and a few others were all that were present. A high fence excluded the outsiders from witnessing the affair.

A crowd had gathered in the streets, and trees overlooking the jail court were filled with men and boys.

Brown walked firmly on the scaffold, and stood looking in a listless way. He was asked if he had anything to say. He turned his back, and for a minute talked incoherently to an imaginary crowd over the fence. The black cap was drawn over his head, the rope put around his neck by Sheriff Stanley, who quickly sprung the trap, and a figure robed in black was dangling from the end of a hempen rope. Death seemed to come quickly, for his neck was broken. The trap was sprung at 7:27 o'clock, and at 7:30 the physicians said life was cut down at 7:49 o'clock and turned over to the undertaker.

STATE POT-POURRI.

The new Constitution provides for the immediate erection of a House of Refuge for juvenile offenders. There are now 150 convicts under the age of eighteen who will be placed in that institution when it is established.—Russellville Herald.

The Republican State Committee will meet in Louisville on the 29th. Its first move on the Kentucky checker-board of the '92 tournament.

It is true that the administration of Governor Brown is not very old, still no murderer has yet escaped the gallows through his interference. As long as he will continue to see the laws enforced he will have the best class of people on his side.—Georgetown Times.

The Jackson Hustler prints this notice under the head of "Married." "On horseback, by Rev. Stephen Carpenter, Mr. James Adkerson to Mrs. Sarah Tolson." This is a cavalry charge; the infantry for support will come along later.—Paducah News.

It is said that not a single member of the legislature has been drunk or much under the influence of liquor since the session commenced. It is not perhaps a prohibition legislature, but it is a sober one as far as drinking is concerned. The people of Kentucky have almost quit electing drunkards.

The Hopkins County Farmers and Laborers Union have resolved,

That, The compensation now received by county superintendents is out of all proportion to the services rendered and that the law allowing them ten cents for each pupil child, is manifestly unjust and oppressive and we earnestly petition the legislature now in session to repeal the same, in order that the former law may prevail, allowing the court of claims in each county to fix the compensation of these officers.

We print an editorial from the Mayfield Mirror this week, which seems to indicate that it is not improbable that Judge D. G. Park may enter the congressional race in this district this year. If he does he will go in to win, which is his way, and the man who beats him will have to get up and hustle.—Clinton Democrat.

There has been a great deal said about the cost of record books throughout the State. An examination of the Auditor's report shows that the State paid $25,744.63 for the books purchased during the last fiscal year. If this expenditure is placed upon the counties, the tax on seals, marriages, and deeds and mortgages should be paid to the counties.—Frankfort Argus.

The Shoshone and Arapahoe Indians agree to sell the government 1,100,000 acres of land, half their reservation in Wyoming, for $60,000.

The Minnesota Alliance endorsed the Third Party and sub-treasury plan by a large majority.

Dr. Graves, the convicted Denver murderer, has been sentenced to hang; the execution to take place some during the week ending January 31.

ROYALTY SUMMONED.

Prince Albert Victor, a Probable King of England, Dead.

London, Jan. 14.—The duke of Clarence is dead. The prince of Wales has sent the following telegram to the lord mayor of London:

Our beloved son passed away at 9 o'clock to-day.

Albert Edward.

The news of the death of the duke of Clarence has caused wide-spread grief, and already demonstrations of the public feeling are everywhere apparent. On all public buildings flags are displayed at half mast, and throughout the whole of London the sad intelligence has been received with expressions of the deepest sorrow.

Prince Albert Victor Christian Edward was born January 8, 1864, and was therefore 28 years old. He was the eldest son of the prince of Wales and consequently in the direct line of succession to the throne. He was educated at Trinity college, Cambridge, and the University of Heidelberg.

By the death of the duke of Clarence and Avondale, the next person to the prince of Wales in the line of direct succession is Prince George Frederick Ernest Albert of Wales, brother of the duke. He was born June 3, 1865. He soon displayed a predilection for naval affairs, and, after serving in minor capacities, was appointed in March, 1890, to the command of the new gunboat Thrush, and while on this vessel he was attached to the British North American Squadron. In August, 1891, he was promoted to her majesty's fleet.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Senator Vest has introduced a bill in the Senate to appropriate $11,000,000 for improving the Lower Mississippi.

At an informal meeting of the Democratic members of the ways and means committee the manner of procedure against the high tariff was discussed. As a result of the conference a number of bills will be introduced by a number of members, each attacking the enemy at some point. Among the first to be introduced is one putting certain classes of lumber on the free list; another makes salt free and another binding twine and barbed wire.

The following resolution was introduced by Congressman Holman and passed by a vote of 227 to 414:

"Resolved, That in the judgment of this House the granting of subsidies or bounties by Congress, in money, public lands, bonds or by indorsement or by pledge of the public credit, to promote special, private industries or enterprises of corporations, independent of the question of the Constitutional power of Congress to make such grants, is unjust and impolitic and in manifest conflict with the spirit of our republican institutions, as it directly tends to create and foster the wealth of favored classes at the expense of the whole people, who bear the burdens of the Government, and manifestly furnishes undue facilities for the enlargement of great private estates—a policy which a Government of the people cannot justly or safely encourage by any form of favoritism in legislation."

Representative Parrett, of Indiana, introduced a bill for expending $100,000 in improving the Ohio river between the mouth of Green river and Evansville.

Wanting Information Concerning Reciprocity.

Congressman Stone, in speaking of the resolution he introduced to-day, calling on the Secretaries of the State and Treasury Departments for information relating to reciprocity as carried out by the McKinley act, said he introduced them for the reason that he reciprocity clause in the McKinley bill accomplished. "In my opinion," said Mr. Stone, "we have received no real benefit from reciprocity such as is claimed by the Administration, and the information asked for in my resolution will disclose the fact whether or not we have secured the free entry into South America's republics of articles that have always been admitted free of duty to the countries of the United States. If, however, reciprocity has given us any benefit we ought to know it."—Courier-Journal.

The Crittenden Press

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

The old chestnut, a bill to move the seat of government from Frankfort, bobs up again.

Judge Wm. Lindsey declines the appointment of Inter-State Commerce Commissioner.

A great deal is being said about the charters of towns of the classes above six; but that unfortunate class appears not to be in it.

Congressman Lund, of California, has introduced a bill to absolutely prohibit Chinese entering the United States under any circumstances.

The handsome way in which the press of the Purchase is mentioning Judge Polk indicates that he will be a lively factor in the next Congressional race.

Here is a judicial district that would please Crittenden: Livingston, Crittenden, Caldwell and Lyon counties; to this might be added, if necessary, Trigg, or Webster.

Brown has appointed Col. Dowell, a prominent farmer of county, Commissioner of Agriculture to succeed Hon. C. Y. Brown, who has been Commissioner several years.

The movement to elect United States Senators by the popular vote has a strong following in Washington this winter. Several resolutions looking to an amendment to the constitution authorizing such a thing.

Misfortunes, they say, never come single handed; neither do blessings for the Frankfort Daily Capital, brimful of Legislative proceedings, and other good things, comes not every day, but five or six every few days.

Though McCracken would be by large odds the largest county in the proposed judicial district, that county is not pleased with the map made by the committee at Frankfort; the lawyers of Paducah held a meeting and resolved that McCracken, Marshall and Calloway counties should compose a district, and a committee will be sent to Frankfort to fight for this arrangement.

Local legislation is now prohibited by the constitution, and when bill day comes in the legislature the House when to erect a gate across a public road, or to declare a frog pond navigable by a duck required the attention of Kentucky saloons. Who is there to abuse the new constitution for this change is our State economy?

An exchange has been asking the ages of some of the prominent politicians, and the following is the result:

Benjamin Harrison is 59, John Sherman is 69, Joseph Hawley is 66, Senator Hoar is 66, Mr. Blaine is 62, Senator Morrill is 82, Tom Peed is 52, Senator Allen is 63, Senator Ingalls is 59 and Mat Quay is 59. On the other hand, on the democratic side, Senator Gorman is 54, Speaker Crisp is 40, Senator Carlisle is 56, Senator Hill is 49, Senator Pugh is 72, Lieut. Gov. Sheehan is 33 and Congressman McMillan is 47.

The passage of a law compelling the railroads to furnish separate coaches for the blacks is one of the certainties of the present session of the legislature. The negroes, however, do not propose to let the matter pass without a fight against it. The Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal says:

"The colored people of the State are preparing to make a strong and determined fight against the proposed separate coach legislation recommended in the report of the Revisory Commission and advocated in no less than half a dozen bills now pending. A few memorials have already arrived, and these are to be followed by appeals addressed directly to the members, and from every county in the Commonwealth. Supplementing all this, protests will be entered by delegates in person. An audience has been requested before the joint Railroad Committee January 29, and Senator Mulligan says arrangements will be made to accommodate all who wish to be heard. While the Senator believes, like many others, that separate coaches for blacks and whites would prove a good thing, he is still open to conviction, and will wait until he hears the argument the opposition has to offer he makes up his mind."

The Governor is Cautious.

Governor Brown is just a little cautious in issuing pardons to those who happen to get into the penitentiary. Recently forty-five petitions for executive clemency were presented to him all at one time. He examined the whole batch, and then refused to interfere in a single instance. It is not often that a man

BELLIGERENT APPEARANCES.

Nine of Our Iron Clads Ordered to Chittian Waters.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Orders were issued from the Navy Department to-day to concentrate the squadrons under Admiral Gherardi and Admiral Walker at Valparaiso, Admiral Gherardi has been designated to command the vessels on the Pacific station. At present Admiral Gherardi, with his squadron, is at Port Au Prince, West Indies Islands. The vessels of his squadron consist of the Philadelphia, Concord and Kearsage. Admiral Walker's squadron is at Montevideo. The Chicago, Atlanta and Bennington comprise the vessels under his command. Admiral Walker was also advised to-day of the orders issued to Admiral Gherardi, and it was left to his discretion whether he should proceed at once to Valparaiso or delay his departure until further advised from the Navy Department. Admiral Gherardi's squadron will leave at once for the south touching at Bahia, Brazil, for advice from the Navy Department.

This combined squadron will meet at Valparaiso, the Boston and Charleston, making a fleet of nine vessels, three of which are the most powerful in the United States Navy. The Chicago carries fourteen breech-loading rifles as its main battery, the Boston eight, the Atlanta eight, the Philadelphia twelve, the Bennington six, the Kearsage fourteen guns, the Concord six and the Charleston eight, making in all seventy-six first-class guns, besides the secondary batteries. The average number of men on each vessel, including officers, marines and sailors, is about 180, making in all about 1,500 men that will soon be on the Pacific station under the command of Admiral Gherardi.

The Navy Department was again this morning the scene of marked activity. Officers in the navigation bureau are busily engaged in translating cipher cables from Commander Evans at Valparaiso, but the statement was made that they contained no new important information. The cablegrams to Admirals Gherardi and Walker, referred to, were also being put in cipher. Several dispatches were received at the State Department from Minister Egan, but their contents were not divulged by department officials.

A wonderful want of this country is coal stations in Southern waters as well as at other points of the globe, and Secretary Tracy knowing the wanting supplies of coal has chartered a steamer at San Francisco to carry about 50,000 tons of coal and land at Callao, or should the occasion demand it, carry it further South where the United States men of war can take on the supply at sea. It is said the Secretary received a despatch to-day from Toulon, France, stating that the Chilean war ship Captain Pratt, which is being built at that port, and now nearly completed will not be ready for service before April 1st. This information will undoubtedly relieve the minds of many people, as the Pratt is regarded in some circles as about the most formidable man of war ever built, and to cope with the best fighting vessel of any of the great power.

There will be about 125,000 words in the message and correspondence which the President will submit to Congress. Secretary Elkins in an interview to-night, said the situation was very serious; that war must come unless Chili made ample reparation. The whole matter, he added, was in the hands of the President and Secretary Blaine and Tracy. The cabinet was in full accord with them and whatever they decide upon would meet with approval of the other members of the cabinet.

Washington, Jan. 19.—"There are three Chilean war vessels in the Straits of Magellan," said a naval officer last night. "They are not obstructing that important ocean highway against the vessels of any nation, but there is an understanding between the State Department and the Navy Department that the presence of the Chilean vessels is intended as a menace against the passage of any more war vessels of the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific waters."

WAR WILL RESULT. San Diego, Cal., Jan. 19.—Private advices received here to-day that the general opinion in Chili is that war will result from the dispute with the United States. The idea of apologizing or backing down is ridiculous. The feeling that Chili will be aided by foreign powers in case of war is just as strong among the people as ever.

Meat Exported.

The exports of hog products for the year ending October 31, 1891, were 484,000,000 pounds bacon, 81,000,000 pounds hams and 77,000,000 pounds pork, making a total of 642,000,000 pounds, and 442,000,000 pounds lard, making a total of 1,084,000,000 pounds. The total meat product exported during the year ending October 31, 1891, was 700,000,000 pounds.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 14.—The resolution to appoint three messengers boys at $2 per day has stood the scrutiny of debate and the decision of the Judiciary committee and the three boys will begin work.

The Senate committee on Judicial redistricting has mapped out the districts; but it is safe to say that there will be many changes before the districts are named. The following is the arrangement proposed for the districts of the extreme western portion of the State as arranged by the committee:

First Judicial (66,175 population)—Graves, Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard.

Second (62,559)—McCracken, Marshall, Livingston, Lyon and Crittenden.

Third (62,695)—Christian, Trigg and Calloway.

Fourth (72,119)—Hopkins, Caldwell, Webster and Union.

Fifth (72,543)—Henderson, Daviess and McLean.

Among the bills introduced Friday, bill day, were:

By Mr. Quigley—To provide for monthly investigations into the accounts of the Treasurer and Auditor.

By Dr. Mathers—To provide separate waiting rooms for white and colored passengers at railway stations.

By Mr. Willett—To prevent the wasting of natural gas, and to provide for the plugging of all abandoned wells.

By Mr. Candler—To give Christian county two Representatives in the House of Representatives.

A bill was introduced to remove the capital from Frankfort to Louisville. This will wake the people of Frankfort up a little, but it is not likely to pass.

News very scarce this week; will try to do better next time.

Carrsville.

La grippe is in the lead in this neighborhood. Dr. A. Lowery reports several severe cases under his treatment, amongst whom is J. A. Kain and family. The doctor says it is doubtful whether or not he can recover; Mr. Kain is about 75 years old; but always been very healthy.

Robt. Collins died Thursday night at his brother-in-law's, W. H. Crawford's, after an illness of fine days. He had bronchial catarrhs.

R. H. May and wife have been confined to their beds for several days, but are better; also Webb Owen and wife have been quite sick but are improving.

The river is chock full of ice, so much so that steamboats are not allowed to take a rest.

It was so cold Thursday night that the mercury tried to get under the floor of the thermometer.

Joe Bridges to-day paid J. M. Pavy seventy five cents for two old hens—you see chickens are in demand here.

The Masons met Thursday night and did not adjourn till 3 o'clock Friday morning. Reckon they had to keep up a fire to keep the goat from freezing.

Thos. Barnett, of Crittenden, has been in on a mule for a considerable time.

Wm. Bishop has a lot of hogs here awaiting a chance to ship on the packet to Evansville. Bill don't say much, but from his looks, we are satisfied he thinks it.

Dr. Lowery had a call the other night to see a patient who lives about five miles from town. The doctor forgot to put a glove on his nose, which organ got badly frosted. Our advice to the doctor is, if he has to ride so far again in the cold to leave his nose at home or carry it in his pocket, or provide some sort of protection for him are sure that when the handle of a man's face is frozen, it is not apt to grow much for sometime.

John Bridges fell about fifty feet the other day, alighting on a pile of stone, but received but little injury, though the stones were literally mashed to pieces; this is John's report and we are satisfied that it is true, for John can't lie, just a little.

J. W. Babb filled his ice house last Monday and is sorry he has no more room to put up more ice; he says it is a pity to see so much good ice going to waste.

Good Luck.

A LUNATIC'S SUICIDE.

William E. Taylor hangs him self at the Western Asylum.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 19.—William E. Taylor, a patient at the Western Lunatic Asylum, near this city, whose home was at Smithland, committed suicide in his cell at the asylum this morning by hanging. He had been in the asylum several times before, but had been there only three or four days this time.

He tore a broad strip from a blanket, and was found suspended from the head of his narrow iron bed which he had placed on one end, but even then his feet were found dangling on the floor, and he must have held them until he was strangled. He was 28 years old. His remains were shipped to Paducah this morning for burial.

In a Bad Way.

"There are almost innumerable dens of iniquity that are boldly and shamelessly operated in this place, the existence of which is a burning shame to our civilization and our sense of decency and duty as citizens.

The dens are operated by the most degraded set of negroes, males and females, and white cum with which any community could be afflicted. It is impossible to walk a hundred yards in any direction in the business part of the city without encountering one of these noxious cesspools or the distorted and degraded beings who either conduct them or, what is little better, who are their patrons and habitués, and who are the disgusting and repulsive objects of every day co-mingling of our people."

The P. M. & O. R. Railroad.

The stock holders of the Princeton, Marion & Ohio River railroad company held a meeting in Blue's law office Monday. After an informal discussion of the situation, it was decided to turn the business of the company, together with all the papers, surveys, etc., over to S. Hodge for a term of three years.

Mr. Hodge has a partner in Louisville who is engaged in railroad enterprises of this character, and the two will unite their efforts in endeavoring to get capital interested in the proposed road. Mr. Hodge will make an effort shortly to get the people along the proposed line interested, in a substantial way, in the road, and he thinks that his assistance is rendered to the extent, at least, of that heretofore offered, the prospects for construction sometime during the period within which he has control and management, are good.

Messrs. J. P. Pierce and S. H. Cassidy went to Louisville Tuesday to attend the Commercial Club meeting, which will arrange for the State's exhibit at the World's Fair. Crittenden county is certainly going to be in it.

J. I. Gans, of the Fords Ferry neighborhood skipped out last week, leaving his wife and several children, taking another woman with him. A few days before his departure he went into a law office, and displaying a scar or two on his person, he wanted to know if he could get a divorce, saying that his wife made those scars. The lawyer discouraged his suit for a divorce, and the result was his departure as stated.

I will be home about the 25th or 28th of this month and wish to inform the good people of Marion and Crittenden county I must get in my outstanding, as I am owing some debts that must be paid. I have to borrow the money it would look better for you to borrow and pay me so I can pay my debts. Hoping you will be ready, I remain your friend, M. L. Hays.

An Ugly Affair.

Last Friday corner Belmar summoned a jury and held an inquest over the dead body of a new born infant, found on the premises of J. T. Yates at Sheridan. Circumstances point to the daughter of Mr. Yates as the mother of the child. The verdict of the coroner's jury was to the effect that the child met its death in an unknown way.

In Webster county, not far from the Crittenden line, there lives a negro woman, who is always referred to as "the old negro." There is unmistakable evidence that she is 135 years old; her limbs are perfectly fleshless, and the spine adheres to the bone so closely that all appears to be bone; when struck together her limbs rattle just like the dry bones they are. She has great, grand children grown, and lives with her youngest grand child, who is 74 years old. She is now entirely helpless, and her mental powers are all gone, and she is fed with a spoon like an infant.

SKIPPED OUT.

Leaving His Father to Pay a $500 Bond.

Last Wednesday night Fulton Brown, son of Mr. A. E. Brown, of Salem, was arrested upon a charge of burglarizing Chas. Daniels' saloon at that place. While Daniels was gone to supper young Brown entered the room through a back window and took $30.00 from the money drawer. Evidence pointed to Brown and he was arrested, and confessed that he got the money, and, under promise that he would not be prosecuted he returned the money. Of course the officer would not let the matter drop, and Squire Woodriddle fixed his bond at $500, and Brown's father arranged the bond by depositing the money. Shortly afterwards Fulton left, and the impression is that he has gone to Texas. When searched there was found in the prisoner's pockets keys to J. H. Rutter's store room and safe drawer. Several thefts of like character have occurred in Salem, and the opinion of the public is that young Brown is the man who committed them.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are excellent people and have many friends who sympathize with them in the unfortunate affair.

Latest Railroad News.

Speaking of a man interested in the welfare of his town and county, and surrounding counties, since the little and not very small difference came up between the railroad and our people for wanting and really now charging an extreme high rate from any and all points, that the merchants can not and will not pay, which one of our merchants was quick enough to perceive the difference and not only take advantage and buy enough goods in his own line to last him fully two or three months, but to be even kind enough to see his competitors and try to get them to take the same advantage, which they failed to take. Now I ask a plain question, should any man, woman or child come from 8 to 30 miles to buy any goods in Marion, because he or they can save money, and after coming here to be carelessly to look around to see where they can do the best, then go home and complain that they came a long distance and saved really nothing, just because of that little careless look. Every week from now on, in your county paper, read prices and be sure when you do come to town take her in and see what you can do, not after you buy, but before.

First Sights at the Capital.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16, '92.

Two prominent structures greet the approach to Washington. They are the first seen by the visitor and no one can mistake them for their forms are familiar to almost every school child; their forms, I say, are familiar to all; but their gigantic dimensions can never be realized till one stands by them; and even then their immensity is felt, not comprehended. I refer to the dome of the Capitol and to the Washington monument.

The first surmounts the Capitol, itself a fit base for a great dome, in the eastern part of the city. The other is nearer the western limits and not far distant from the Potomac river.

There are many things to see here, and the people are constantly seeing them. The city is thronged with visitors and the gazers form the bulk of those you see. It is one city in which it seems to be agreed that one has a right to gaze all he wants to, and if he sometimes stands with his mouth open, he is but little the worse for it.

Two other great structures are the War Department and the Treasury Department. Between these two giant structures, the White House seems a very infant—a very white and pretty baby however; but it is no small structure considered alone or in comparison with less structures. It has a clean, neat, democratic appearance, being large enough and fine enough to sustain the dignity of the republic and not large or grand enough to excite the pride of the occupants.

Other buildings of note are the Smithsonian Institute, the National Museum, the Agriculture Department and others of which I may speak later.

FIRE AT CADIZ.

The $50,000 Court House destroyed. No insurance.

Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 13.—The court house was burned at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The County Court records were saved. The Circuit Court papers in the vault are thought to be intact.

The court house and fixtures destroyed were worth $50,000, with no insurance. The County Judge got all of the county papers and records of his office safely moved, as did the Sheriff County Attorney and School Superintendent.

It caught in the court-room, it is supposed, by fire falling out of the stove and catching the matting on the floor. The court-house was remodeled and rebuilt in 1883, and was one of the best and handsomest in the State.

Why They are There.

The Warden of the Frankfort penitentiary made his report showing that December 1, 1889 he had 1,127 convicts, received to December 1st, 1891, 1,402, discharged 623, sent to Eddyville 534, sent to railroads 55, delivered to sheriffs by order of court 4, escaped 57, paroled 78, pardoned 85, died and respited 2, total 1,615, leaving 913 in the penitentiary December 1st, 1891. Of these 100 are life prisoners, 47 for 20 to 40 years, 31 for 15 to 20 years. The only white woman in for life is Josie Fritz. Union county has 16 representatives there. 96 are in for murder, 122 manslaughter, 72 for using pistols and knives, 19 for rape, 27 for attempting it, 167 for burglary, the others for lesser crimes. 18 are under 15 years old, 186 are from 15 to 20, 290 from 20 to 25 and 2 are over 60. The Governor suggests that all the convicts be kept at Frankfort and the Eddyville prison be converted into a reform prison. He also says that he believes the parole law unconstitutional.

Hampton.

The old year is gone and with it our joys and sorrows of the old year are passed into eternity. Some of us perhaps have passed some of our sweetest pleasures in the past year, and many of our dear friends have said farewell to this world of sin and sorrow and gone where sorrow never comes. Can we all look back and think that we have done everything right in the past year? No, I do not think one of us can. Let us ask ourselves if we have. Now the old year is gone, with its many trials and temptations, let us all make a solemn resolve in our hearts that we will cast our old habits aside and begin life anew.

Miss Mollie Babb and John Markey, of Paducah, were the guests of Mrs. Markey's last week.

Mrs. Jim Nelson returned home with her sister, Emma Rector, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting her for several weeks.

G. W. Tipton is building a beautiful little residence on Oak Street.

Lena Hodge, who has been spending a few days at home has returned to school again.

The dance at Forest Hardy's was quite a success; the young people seemed to enjoy themselves until the wee small hours and returned to their homes declaring they had indeed spent a very pleasant evening.

Marion Faulkner will open up a barber shop on Broadway in a few days.

Joe Wright, one of our prominent young farmers, went out sporting one day last week, and brought in five big fat turkeys, and invited some of his friends to dine with him. Of all the birds beneath the skies big fat turkey takes the prize.

J. I. Lawless is building a new house. He is preparing to ter, Mrs. Rutter; she has made many warm friends, and when she returns home a number of our boys will exclaim, "Oh, where is my heart?" but she contemplates returning in the spring, and she and her sister will open up a millinery store.

Jas. Rutter, of Salem, we learn, is talking of returning to Hampton to live; that's right, Jimmie, return to your old home, that is according to Scripture.

Dear Editor, wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year, I'll desist.

GRATFUL—COMFORTING.

EPP'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epp's has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk.
